10. If you wish to receive e-mail notifications about changes in the portal, click yes. The same applies to the next consent, if you agree to the data transfer to the departments. If you do not want either, click no.

The screenshot shows a web application interface for Trier University of Applied Sciences. The header includes navigation icons, the university logo, a search bar, and user information. The main content area is titled "Application : e-mail notifications and consents" and contains two sections. The first section, "Enable e-mail notifications?", asks if the user wants to be informed about changes. It has two radio button options: "Yes, enable e-mail notifications" and "No, I inform myself independently". The second section, "Consent to receive emails with general information", explains that the university needs consent to send general information, including program details, counseling services, and event invitations. It asks if the user agrees to this. Both sections have their respective radio button options circled in red. A "Save selection" button is located at the bottom left of the form area.

Consent to receive emails with general information

The university would like to inform you about studying at the university. We need your consent for this. If you agree, your contact details, the degree programme you have chosen, the semester you have applied for and the status of your application will be sent to the relevant departments.

The departments may use this data for the following purposes:

Sending e-mails with

- general information about your chosen degree programme,
- Information on counselling services,
- invitations to information events and interviews,
- Information on preliminary courses,
- general reminders to submit your application.

Do you agree that the university may send you such information about your degree programme application by e-mail?

I agree to the terms stated above.

I reject the terms stated above.

11. Add your request.

The screenshot displays the application portal interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Trier University of Applied Sciences logo and a search bar. Below the navigation bar, the breadcrumb trail reads: Home > Studies offered > Application. The main heading is 'Application' with the subtext 'Application semester: winter term 2024/25'. A notification states: 'There are no documents in your inbox yet.' Below this, the 'Unsubmitted requests' section contains a message: 'To apply for a study place, click on "Add application". Please note that you can submit a maximum of 3 applications.' A prominent teal button labeled '+ Add a request' is highlighted with a large red arrow pointing to it from the right. On the right side of the page, there are two panels: 'Personal Information' and 'Help & Contact'. The 'Personal Information' panel shows the applicant number, name 'Mustermann, Max', and three redacted fields. It also indicates that 'E-mail notifications enabled' and provides options to 'Disable' or 'Withdraw consent'. The 'Help & Contact' panel provides contact information for different sites and a link for 'Information on online application'.
